

2018 Spring Retreat

Joann Haas

Joann has been an avid beader, wire and metal worker, and enamellist for many years. She has been a student with some of the most talented and respected artists within these disciplines and has been fortunate to have been invited to share her skills with different groups, including the Loose Bead Society of Greater Milwaukee. Joann looks forward to sharing the techniques she has learned and adding her own empirical experiences on these techniques. She anticipates each session with great optimism and learning from her students.
